European MOOC Consortium - Labour Market

MOOCs and digital continuous education/training are a flexible and scalable solution for a transnational, truly European response to the needs of the economy across Europe. They can keep innovative knowledge and skills of the workforce up to date and anticipate on careers of tomorrow.

EMC-LM brings together MOOC platforms, universities and public employment services to meet the learning needs of the European labour market.

MOOCs are scalable!

MOOCs are flexible!

MOOCs are innovative!

everywhere!

Objectives

- ✓ Provide MOOCs for the labour market
- ✓ Enhance the quality and strength of the European workforce in terms of employability, innovation and entrepreneurship
- ✓ Share experience and expertise on MOOCs and digital education and training
- ✓ Provide high quality MOOCs and digital education and training for the European labour market
- ✓ Create a framework for structural collaboration on the development, delivery and use of MOOCs
- ✓ Extend continuous education and professional career development for the EU labour market
- ✓ Raise the competitiveness of regions and member states
- ✓ Bring the Modernisation and Skills Agendas of the European Commission into practice

Through EMC-LM, employment services, MOOC platforms and course providers, are creating the framework for a structural collaboration by building expertise in the delivery of MOOCs to job-seekers as well as those employed in different sectors.

MOOC platforms like the European MOOC Consortium (Futurelearn, France Université Numérique, Miriadax, EduOpen and the OpenupEd partnership) build a new alliance with public employment services, sectoral organisations and companies in order to organise education and training for the workforce in every European Union country.
